

The Burning Bush - Online article archive

25th Sodomite parade in Belfast

One of the protesters, Rev Ken Elliott, Free Presbyterian minister from Portadown, said: "I suppose there'll be a lot of pressures on the legislators to make a change. But whether it changes or not, it's still wrong, the Bible is against it."

Thousands attended the sodomite celebration of immorality in Belfast on Saturday 1st August. The BBC news site contained the following comments.

One spectator, who moved out of Belfast more than 40 years ago, said the growth of the local Gay Pride movement was a sign of how much the city has changed.

"When I left Belfast in 1974 you would never, ever, ever imagine that this kind of thing could happen in Belfast and it's brilliant, absolutely fantastic," the woman said.

"I think it says an awful lot about how society has changed and how open-minded people have become, and I think that's all to the good."

Thomas Finnegan, 53, from Belfast said: "I've been on the parades since they started in Belfast and there was only a handful of us and this is amazing to see the number of people. The first parades were scary, there was only a handful of us and you were frightened, because there was a big fear factor to see it grow to this level is amazing."

the parades since they started in Belfast and there was only a handful of us and this is amazing to see the number of people. The first parades were scary, there was only a handful of us and you were frightened, because there was a big fear factor to see it grow to this level is amazing."

These remarks about the moral changes that have emerged in Belfast should distress every true believer for they signal the downward path that our nation is on and the inevitable judgment that will follow.

Despite the welcome given the supporters of this depravity and reported by the BBC, the change that is so welcome to them ought to alarm and awaken Christians. What the Saviour told us about the days before His return is taking place before our eyes.

"And as it was in the days of Noe, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man. They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all. Likewise also as it was in the days of Lot; they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded; But the same day that Lot went out of Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all. Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man is revealed," Luke 17:26-30.

Sinn Fein Lord Mayor of Belfast, Arder Carson, and other councillors helped to carry a banner calling for marriage equality as the parade moved off from Custom House Square. The Sinn Féin councillor said marking the 25th anniversary of the first Belfast Pride parade was a "milestone" for the gay rights movement.

"It started small scale way back in the day and it's just grown, year on year, and I suppose today, being a quarter century, is of special significance for the Belfast Pride festival."

Speaking ahead of the march, the mayor said he was looking forward to "another fantastic event for the city". "It's going to be a spectacle of colour, it's going to be an expression of identity and an expression of diversity for Belfast".

Thus we see that the political party that allied itself with terrorism and murder is also allied with immorality. Of course, these two elements of lawlessness and rebellion against God go together!

"And GOD saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that every imagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil continually . . . . The earth also was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence. And God looked upon the earth, and, behold, it was corrupt; for all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth. And God said unto Noah, The end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with violence through them; and, behold, I will destroy them with the earth," Genesis 6:5, 11-13.

The Burning Bush - Online article archive

After voters in the Republic of Ireland supported the introduction of same sex marriage in a referendum in May, Northern Ireland is now the only part of the UK and Ireland where gay marriage has not been legalised.

The Northern Ireland Assembly has voted on the issue four times and each time it has been rejected by MLAs.

On Saturday, Christian protesters staged a demonstration against the march outside Belfast City Hall, but they were far outnumbered by sodomite supporters.