

The Burning Bush - Online article archive

Bobby Storey IRA funeral . . . a reminder of who is in charge!!

Despite the possibility of wearying our many readers from outside Northern Ireland and for the benefit of those within it, I am sending out this article which appeared in the "Belfast Newsletter" of July 9th, 2020.

The article sets forth salient facts which even the most fervent followers of Northern Ireland affairs can forget amidst the plethora of news reports and analysis.

There is in the article a bringing out again of the evil character of those gangster/politicians who were surreptitiously slipped into power by the treachery of the Democratic Unionist Party, blinded to the danger by its lust for power and the fruits thereof and wooed by the siren song of ecumenical deceivers!

The debacle following the 'Storey funeral' and the pitiful response of the Unionist parties at Stormont, the disclosures of the police and the Belfast City Council's accommodation of the IRA's requirements for the funeral, all serve to underscore how a conquest has taken place in Ulster and that we are in truth under IRA rule!

Sadly, Ulster Protestants are almost totally blind to this truth. Blinded by the false pulpiteers who have, in a manner foreshadowing the infiltration of Sinn Fein/IRA into the corridors of power, "crept in unawares" (Jude 3) to Protestant pulpits and poisoned the pews with their anti-Bible liberal, modernistic lies.

I am reminded of the words of Jeremiah, written in the wake of Judah reaping the harvest of heeding the lying and deceitful false prophets who had derided the warnings of Jeremiah and persecuted the man of God for telling the truth to the nation!

"What thing shall I take to witness for thee? what thing shall I liken to thee, O daughter of Jerusalem? what shall I equal to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter of Zion? for thy breach is great like the sea: who can heal thee? Thy prophets have seen vain and foolish things for thee: and they have not discovered thine iniquity, to turn away thy captivity; but have seen for thee false burdens and causes of banishment. All that pass by clap their hands at thee; they hiss and wag their head at the daughter of Jerusalem, saying, Is this the city that men call The perfection of beauty, the joy of the whole earth? All thine enemies have opened their mouth against thee: they hiss and gnash the teeth: they say, We have swallowed her up: certainly this is the day that we looked for; we have found, we have seen it. The LORD hath done that which he had devised; he hath fulfilled his word that he had commanded in the days of old: he hath thrown down, and hath not pitied: and he hath caused thine enemy to rejoice over thee, he hath set up the horn of thine adversaries," Lamentations 2:13-17.

Oh that even at this late hour, the Lord might grant a listening ear to a remnant here in this favoured land!

---

Owen Polley: The Bobby Storey IRA funeral was reminder of who is in charge of Northern Ireland

There is one rule in Northern Ireland for republicans and one for everybody else.

By Owen Polley; Thursday, 9th July 2020, 12:25 pm

The enormous ceremony in West Belfast was a show of strength by the IRA. A reminder of who is in charge of this place. They staged an ostentatious extravaganza for their henchman. It was not a burial, because he was taken to east Belfast, where Roselawn was occupied by the Provos

I'm afraid unionists will just have to suck it up.

The peace process is based on appeasing Sinn Fein and their ilk.

The Burning Bush - Online article archive

Many of these people come from a movement with a criminal background and there is no sanction that they recognise, so what are we going to do about it?

The implicit threat that has kept things moving their way is that if we don't do what they want, republicans will return to violence.

This form of intimidation has ensured that the government, the political parties in Northern Ireland and, particularly, the mass of people in this country, who just want to get on with their lives, will do anything, give anything, to make that problem stay away.

If you were surprised by the Bobby Storey funeral fiasco, frankly, you must have been living under a rock.

This is just the latest in a succession of Provo funerals where guidelines were flaunted and advice was ignored.

The motion calling for Michelle O'Neill and Conor Murphy to apologise illustrates the extent to which the other parties are toothless.

For months, these characters lectured us about coronavirus and urged a harder, more extreme lockdown.

They cast it as a matter of lives against the economy.

They threw an almighty tantrum when the schools didn't close as quickly as they wanted, when even the worst-case-scenario modelling of University College London acknowledged that this was one of the last things that should have been done.

Yet, when this odious character — a bank robber, a jailbreaker, a key figure in a murderous terror group — died, we saw what Sinn Fein is all about.

The enormous ceremony in West Belfast was a show of strength by the IRA. A reminder of who is in charge of this place.

They staged an ostentatious extravaganza for their henchman.

It was not a burial, because he was taken elsewhere, to east Belfast, where Northern Ireland's largest cemetery was occupied by the Provos.

The PSNI, let's face it, the whole of society, colluded to allow this abomination to take place.

That was one day.

It is relatively unimportant when you start to weigh things up.

It is a minor infraction when you consider how they're allowed to glorify terrorism and sanitise murder regularly, through parades, funerals, the Sinn Fein friendly festival in West Belfast (funded lavishly through rate-payers money).

The legacy process has been rigged in their favour, to ensure that the IRA will not be held to account for the vast majority of murders during the Troubles, but the finger will instead be pointed at the security forces.

The New Decade, New Approach debacle was concocted to entice them back into the executive.

A border will soon be drawn down the Irish Sea in order to placate their separatist designs.

Despite this litany of disgrace and deception, they are the most popular party among nationalists.

They collapsed Stormont for three years, made ridiculous demands, and although their vote share went down a little in Northern Ireland, they became the biggest party in the Republic.

The Burning Bush - Online article archive

So what are we going to do?

The DUP prostrated themselves to get the assembly up and running again. They demolished the three strands of the Good Friday Agreement and signed up to a deal co-authored by the Dublin government.

They are going to slap O'Neill on the wrist and carry on as normal.

The Ulster Unionist Party, under Steve Aiken, will not have the backbone to walk away from the executive.

Quite rightly, Ben Lowry said that should be their approach in Saturday's News Letter (July 4, see link below), but can you actually see it happening?

No.

In a week's time there will be a few unsanctioned parades and suddenly that will become the focus of media attention.

Move on, nothing to see here.

The Burning Bush - Online article archive