

The Burning Bush—Online article archive

Welcome to the new site of the “Burning Bush”.

We hope that you find it interesting, fresh and easy to navigate.

Its whole concept has been the project of my son, Rev Andy Foster, and I owe him my gratitude for its creation and the transferring of the many, many articles and sermons that are freely available to all who visit us.

Both Andy and I trust that the site will prove edifying to your soul and glorifying to our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

Our sentiments regarding our desire for the witness of this site would be those gleaned from the letters of Samuel Rutherford, the Scottish Covenanter, who laboured long by the banks of the Solway Firth back in the 17th century, and composed into a hymn in 1857 by Anne Cousin:

*Fair Anwoth by the Solway, to me thou still art dear,
Even from the verge of heaven, I drop for thee a tear.
Oh! If one soul from Anwoth meet me at God's right hand,
My heaven will be two heavens, In Immanuel's land.*

What a joy if a soul found Christ, if a saint was refreshed and revived by a visit to this site!
